

Summer 2019 Edutour to Singapore

Our Edutours are designed for student groups seeking to gain more English exposure by immersing in an English-speaking environment.

We actively create opportunities for foreign students to improve their English Language competency and to get a global vision of the world. In our Edutours, students experience real-life communication scenarios, build confidence and interact actively with people from different countries in English.

Individual students can also sign up for our edutours if they tag along with other student groups already signed up.

The inlingua method teaches students to communicate in the target language from the very first lesson as the emphasis is on immersion and direct communication through speaking.

From day one of your course, the teacher's aim is to encourage students to speak 80% of the time.
